2018 Pharma CI's Award of the Year:

Most Innovative Approach to CI (Strategies, Methods, Tools)

The Pharma CI's Award of the Year is an annual case study competition recognizing innovation in competitive intelligence. To contend for this prestigious honor, innovation leaders from global corporations, agencies and academia are invited to submit their impactful case studies where their approach has advanced competitive intelligence in their organization. The winning case study should include details of the specific project and how an innovative approach (i.e. methodology, tools, ways to work with internal-external clients/vendors, etc.) delivered insight leading to advancement of that business. The expert jury will select a winner to be presented at the Pharma CI USA Conference on September 26-27 in Newark, New Jersey.

Terms & Conditions

- The project initiation should be within the last 24 months
- Projects could be in progress or already implemented.
- A company may submit more than one initiative for the award
- The Pharma CI Conference may publish the winner's submission on open platforms such as industry publications, websites and social media
- Please ensure your submissions are fully approved by your organization before submitting
- The jury will evaluate the submissions and make a decision
- The jury decisions are final and may not be disputed
